THE 2023 ACEK ANNUAL CONFERENCE

Stakeholders gathered in Eldoret for the 2nd Annual Association of Consulting Engineers Conference that was held from 16th to 18th October 2023 to deliberate on the theme "Engineering Food Security". Key among the players at the three-day conference held coincidentally on World Food Day (16th October 2023) included government officials, regional bodies, private sector company presidents and CEOs, directors, managers and their teams, development partners, donor agencies and financiers, contractors, consulting firms, engineering associations, technology companies, academia, media, among others.

The opening ceremony included remarks from the ACEK Council, ACEK's Chairman - Eng. Patrick Wambulwa, the Honorary Secretary - Eng. Jane Mutulili and the Future Leaders Chairman - John Robert Ogalo, the IEK President - Eng Eric Ohaga, the EBK chairman ably represented by Dr. Eng. Johnston Matu. The opening ceremony included keynote addresses by Dr. Paul Kiprono Rono - Principal Secretary, Ministry of Agriculture and Livestock Development, State Department for Crop Development represented by Eng. Richard Kanui, the Engineering Secretary and Eng. Joseph Mungai Mbugua - Principal Secretary, Ministry of Roads and Transport, State Department of Roads represented by Eng. James M. Kung'u, Chief Engineer (Roads) in the State Department of Infrastructure.

The 2023 ACEK Conference was officially opened by His Excellency, Hon Jonathan Chelilim Bii, the Governor, County Government of Uasin Gishu who underlined the need for Kenya to move towards high tech agriculture, for individuals to apply outstanding solutions in food security and pointed out opportunities for engineers in initiatives such as affordable housing, Eldoret's proposed railway city, increased connectivity for farmers through improved infrastructure. These he highlighted as the low hanging fruits for engineers to take up as Eldoret town gears up for city status.

The 2023 ACEK Conference also included plenary sessions. Eng. Philemon Kandie, the Director General Kenya Rural Roads Authority made a presentation on the efforts KeRRA is making towards accessibility and the challenges faced with a recommendation to have roads constructed with food security in mind. During the plenary session, Eng. Charles Muasya addressed the delegates on a case study of Galana-Kulalu Project highlighting some of the challenges it has faced. Dr. Marion Amuriot representing the Managing Commissioner Kenya Meat Commission highlighted how the institution aligns with food security. Victor Ogalo representing the CEO of KEPSA addressed the critical role of the private sector in addressing food security whereas FIDIC's Vice Chairperson, Eng. James N. Mwangi, brought out the focus of mainstreaming climate change in project designs.

The second plenary session on the first day included keynote addresses by Hon Gulleid Simba, the North-Eastern Development Initiative (NEDI) National Coordinator, giving an insight on the role played by the multibillion-dollar initiative that focuses on transformative and integrated infrastructure for sustainable livelihoods in the North and North-Eastern marginalized communities. Eng. Dick Ndiewo gave an overview of the Africa Continental Free Trade Area Agreement (AfCFTA) its objectives, governance structure and opportunities for engineers in food security. Robert Materei touched on Kenya National Investment Authority and the available bankable projects available, Erastus Makena addressed delegates on the Role of Innovation and Technology and Alice Chepng'eno from Kenya Cooperative Creameries discussed the operations of KCC.

The day also included technical paper presentations tackling the subthemes of infrastructure, roads, transport, and rural housing; Irrigation and Water Resources; Manufacturing and Agro Industries.

The evening culminated in a colorful cocktail session providing a networking opportunity among the delegates, sponsors, and the exhibitors.

The Registrar and CEO, Engineers Board of Kenya – Eng. Margaret Ogai touched on the Journey to the Washington Accord, the Graduate Engineers Internship Program and Continuous Professional Development on the 3rd Plenary Session on 17th October 2023. She emphasized the need for personal ownership when engineers design and supervise projects. She underscored how EBK is dealing with professional negligence. Also in the session was Prof. Wilson Ngétich, the Deputy Vice Chancellor - University of Eldoret giving an overview of the University, challenges the institution is facing and some of the solutions to current issues that the university can be tasked with tackling Technical papers presented on 17th October were under the subtheme; Machinery, Energy, Mechanization, Economics and Finance; Environment, Climate Change and Urban Agriculture; Education, Research, Practice and Emerging Technologies with keynote addresses from Eng. Okova Wangaki representing the General Manager - Rural Electrification and Renewable Energy Corporation (REREC), Moses Kachumo representing the General Manager - Geothermal Development Company (GDC) and Michael Cherutich, the General Manager - Tea Machinery and Engineering Company (TEMEC).

The 2023 ACEK Conference was officially closed by H.E. Hon Kenneth Lusaka who was ably represented by the Deputy Governor, County Government of Bungoma, Janepher Chemtai Mbatiany on 17th October 2023

2023 ANNUAL ACEK CONFERENCE COCKTAIL

The ACEK Conference Cocktail took place on the evening of October 16th, providing attendees with a well-deserved break from their busy day of conference activities. The cocktail event was a splendid affair, where professionals from various fields came together to unwind and connect with like-minded individuals. The evening commenced with a warm welcome from the ACEK organizing committee and council members, who expressed their gratitude to all attendees, sponsors, and speakers for making the conference a resounding success.

One of the primary goals of the ACEK Conference Cocktail was to foster meaningful connections among participants. Attendees had the opportunity to network with peers, industry leaders, and keynote speakers, making it an invaluable part of the conference experience. The relaxed and convivial atmosphere allowed for organic conversations and the exchange of ideas, which often led to new collaborations and partnerships.

The conference cocktail also included a partner's promotion segment where sponsors from SBS Tanks, KSB Pumps and Valves, Wilo EA, TEMEC, Davis and Shirliff, Isuzu EA addressed the attendees

2023 ANNUAL ACEK CONFERENCE DINNER

The climax of the 2023 ACEK conference was the Gala Dinner held on 17th October 2023 at Sirikwa hotel. The dinner was not just a social event but gave a platform for celebrating ACEK’s community’s accomplishments. The attendees were treated to a spectacular evening that set a reminder of the power of collaboration, shared goals, and the determination to make a difference.

The culinary experience at Sirikwa Hotel did not disappoint. Attendees were treated to a delectable assortment of Kenyan dishes and international cuisine, showcasing the country’s rich culinary traditions. From mouthwatering Nyama Choma to fragrant pilau, the food options satisfied a wide range of palates. The diverse array of dishes was not only a feast for the taste buds but also an excellent opportunity to savour the local flavours of Kenya. Sirikwa hotel’s staff outdid themselves.

On the backdrop of entertainment provided by Hyperlink limited, attendees were treated to a celebration of music across the ages and culture, further enriching the event and making it indelible.

EXPORING INNOVATIONS: TECHNICAL TOURS DURING THE 2023 ANNUAL ACEK CONFERENCE

The Association of Consulting Engineers Kenya (ACEK) organized technical tours on the 3rd day of the Conference offering attendees a unique opportunity to explore the conference theme from a hands-on perspective. Conference delegates were given the opportunity to step out of the conference venue and get a glimpse of cutting-edge technology and research, offering them an immersive experience that left a lasting impression.

Technical tours organized included visits to Chebut Tea Factory in Kapsabet, the new KCC in Eldoret, Uasin Gishu County Agricultural Machinery Centre, Unga Millers in Eldoret, Buffalo Millers/Kili Farms, Voltalia Kenya Solar Power Plant and North Rift Water Works Development Authority sites including: Chebara Dam, and Water Treatment Works; Boundary Wastewater Works and Kipkaren Dam and Water Treatment Works.

HEARTWARMING CSR TO UASIN GISHU COUNTY CHILDREN RESCUE CENTRE

The Association of Consulting Engineers Kenya (ACEK) conference would be remembered for thought provoking discussions and insights. However, the conference included a remarkable and heartwarming Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) activity. In a beautiful display of community engagement, the ACEK Council and members volunteered to visit the Uasin Gishu County Children’s rescue center creating an unforgettable experience for both the attendees and children many of whom sparked a new passion for engineering.
